Eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time

MARCH 2, 2025

Sirach 27:4-7; 1 Corinthians 15:54-58;
 Luke 6:39-45

How often we open our mouths to insert our feet! The author of the first reading tells us that we reveal ourselves to others each time we speak. Sad to say, we don't reveal ourselves to ourselves!

In the Gospel, Jesus asks us why we see the speck in our neighbor's eye and fail to notice the plank in our own eye. The old Greek philosopher said, "Know thyself." That's the first step toward integrity or maturity or just being a virtuous person.

Cervantes remarked that to know oneself was the most difficult lesson in the world to learn! The old Scottish poet, Robert Burns, said: "Oh wad some power the giftie gie us To see oursels as others see us!" ("O would that God some grace would give us to see ourselves as others see us.")

The point is that not too many of us really want to face ourselves honestly. We might discover that we are boring windbags, when we thought we were brilliant conversationalists. We might find that we were idle gossipers, when we thought we were conscientiously interested in others.

We might find that we are attention seekers or victims or whiners or braggarts or hypocrites or that we have a lot of bad traits. But no one wants to tell us the real truth. No one wants to tell us that we have bad breath or that we have annoying habits.

Perhaps it's best that we don't always tell the truth, for most of us really don't want to know ourselves. But Christ dares us to know ourselves truly, to face ourselves honestly. If we find ourselves wanting, he still loves us. He forgives us. He empowers us to change. He can give us strength to overcome our rough spots if only we face ourselves honestly.

Our mothers probably told us, "When you are perfect, you can correct others." Good advice! Let's know ourselves and correct ourselves. That will be a full time job; we won't have time to search for specks in others' eyes.

8TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

From Grant Wilson:

Hello again, St. Francis Parish!

It's been a busy few months since I started in September as your new Director of Religious Education (especially since Jess and I welcomed our daughter Rose into the world in January!), and I wanted to share some of the exciting things I've been working on with the people of our parish:

We are strengthening our PSR program. I meet regularly with our catechists to review how classes for students in first through sixth grades are going. We added an opening game to give students a fun way to start each evening. We now conclude each week with prayer and/or a song in the church with students and parents.

We recently enjoyed a fantastic family night with over 45 participants who, on average, rated the evening 4.5 out of 5! We've implemented the Real + True curriculum for our 4th-6th graders and have recently welcomed four new students.

We are building small groups. I submitted a grant for small group ministry to the Tracy Family Foundation and they awarded our parish $12,000 to help parishioners, especially busy families with children, start and join small groups and bible studies to learn about their faith and form community. We are working with families in the school and in PSR to connect and grow with each other.

If you're interested in joining or leading a small group with friends and family, let me know! I'm here to make the process easy by walking through each step with you, finding solid content, and providing funds for snacks and childcare.

We are helping form the faith of our school students. I've set up a rotation for our parish clergy and staff to visit all 14 religion classes at the school each week where we complement the existing curricula. This year we covered topics including sacraments, sacred art, the importance of church community, the Big Bang Theory, faith and reason, the saints, and Scripture through videos, games, and in-depth discussion.

My office has moved from the parish to the top floor of the school, and I'm excited to provide more frequent campus ministry opportunities to our students.

In conclusion... We're doing a lot! Sadly, there isn't time for every good idea to be realized...but that's where you come in. If you feel called to serve in one of the areas listed above, or in another area, please let me or the parish office know, and we'll happily find where your gifts coincide with needs. My email is gwilson@stfrancissolanus.com, and the office number is 217-222-2898.

God bless! Feel free to come say hi to Rose when you see us.
