Fifth Sunday of Lent

APRIL 6, 2025

Isaiah 43:16-21; Philippians 3:8-14;
 John 8:1-11

During the last two weeks of Lent, we reflect on the suffering and death of Jesus. In ancient times, crosses were very ornate and beautiful; usually the crosses did not display the body of Christ. The empty cross was a symbol of Christ's victory in the resurrection.

For this reason, the Church veiled the crosses during the time when we meditate on the suffering and death of the Lord. This was also the reason for veiling the statues: At this time, we do not think of the saints; we think of the Passion and Death of the Lord.

Today's Mass, however, looks to the effect of Christ's Passion rather than to the suffering itself. By his Passion, the Lord atoned for all our sins! He redeemed us and brought us forgiveness.

The setting of the first reading is the return of the Jews from Babylonian Captivity in 538 B.C. Deutero-Isaiah compares this release to the liberation of the Israelites from slavery in Egypt. Then the Lord brought them through the waters of the Red Sea to the Promised Land. Isaiah speaks of the waters in the desert and rivers in the wasteland. We naturally think of the waters of baptism in which we were baptized and liberated from sin.

In the second reading, St. Paul tells us of our new value system: In Christ, we now think of everything else as garbage. Compared with the glory of salvation, all other things are worthless. We are willing to share the suffering of Christ in order that we shall also share the glory of his resurrection.

The Gospel is the story of the woman caught in the act of adultery. The Torah called for her execution. Jesus' reply to the Scribes and Pharisees should be our motto: "Let the person without sin cast the first stone!" Although she did not deserve it, the Lord gently and respectfully forgives her and sends her on her way, telling her to sin no more.

Let us rejoice in the effect of Christ's suffering: our forgiveness! The Lord has done great things for us; let us be glad – and

FIFTH SUNDAY OF LENT

The March for Life 2025 pilgrimage began at St. Francis Solanus with prayer for our journey. We then went to the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception in Springfield where we met other schools who had gathered for the event. After the march, we went to the Corpus Christi Priory (bottom left).

During this Jubilee Year of Hope, the message of Life was heard in Illinois thanks to the participation of Catholic youth from schools around the state.

While the protestors may be what made the headlines, seeing the kids watching and listening to the Norbertine Canons pray Evening Prayers was the fullest expression of Hope.
